THE TIMES TENTH YEAR.

With last week's issue THE TIMES passed its 9th year of existence and with this issue starts out another year, with brighter prospects than it has ever done before. Its subscription list is larger than it has ever been, and the advertising patronage is fairly good, taking everything into consideration.

We are truly grateful to our patrons for the kindness and liberality extended us, and in return we promise to give them a good and newsy paper, we hope, worthy the attention of all who are interested in the development of our grand old Pocahontas County.

Again thanking our friends for every kindness shown us in the past and soliciting your continued support, we start on another year with bright prospects and happy anticipations.

HON. E. W. WILSON.

Governor E. W. Wilson has withdrawn from the Congressional race. He has prepared a lengthy statement for his supporters, giving his reasons for his withdrawal. These reasons in brief express dissatisfaction with the manner in which the canvass has been conducted by the friends of his opponent, and in several instances he intimates that their course has been unfair. His statement concludes as follows:

Nevertheless, upon reliable information of the position of the various delegations as they now stand, the vote of Kanawha county, under its resolution referred to and that of Summers as recorded by the people, would determine the majority of the Congressional Convention. Being satisfied that they will not be cast in that way if necessary to secure a majority, I consider it my duty to my friends and self to pursue the course herein indicated in order that they may be advised of the situation and the condition under which the Congressional convention will assemble on the 25th instant.

Again I wish to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation for the disinterested kindness of the many friends who have given me their support and to join with them in the ardent wish for the triumphant success of Democratic principles, the greatest guarantee for the relief of the people and permanent security of American institutions.

Nicholas Convention.

The Democrats of Nicholas County met at the Court House of that County, on the 4th of July, and from accounts no more enthusiastic convention ever assembled in the County. Senator Chas. J. Fankner and Congressman J. D. Alderson were present and made speeches. Following out the suggestion of the Congressional Executive Committee, a vote was taken between Governor Wilson and Mr. Alderson for Congress. The vote resulted Wilson none, Alderson all. A vote was had between candidates for Governor and resulted as follows: Bennett 7 and 39 69: McCerle, 2 and 28 69 of the vote of the county.

Naugatuck, W. V. is said to have a spring that is pouring forth water which produces intoxication without the disagreeable after results. The imbibers laugh, sing and dance rather than quarrel and fight.

Gladstone's Majority.

London, July 15—With the 621 out of 670 members of the House of Commons elected, interest in the elections has to a large extent subsided. It is practically certain that Gladstone's majority will be somewhere near fifty. Lord Salisbury summons a cabinet council for next week to decide whether the present government shall meet Parliament, or forthwith resign.

A Republican Senator on the Force Bill.

The burning words of U. S. Senator Teller of Colorado, a pronounced and prominent republican, lately uttered with reference to the Force bill, are worthy of repetition, and we commend them to the consideration of all honest men without regard to party: "I have read that bill with care and attention more than twenty times. I have read it in the light of calm consideration. And I repeat that if it were presented to me now, with the alternative of party support or party dismissal, I should not vote for the bill. A more infamous bill, in my judgment, never passed the threshold of the doors of the Senate. Avowedly in the interest of good government, it was instigated, in my judgment, by men whose interest it was to prevent a free expression of the will of the voters at the polls."

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON. LATE MATTERS OF INTEREST PERTAINING TO OUR GOVERNMENT.

[Reported for THE TIMES by our regular correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Senator Brice is finding it difficult to stick to his long-ago-expressed determination to retire from the chairmanship of the democratic National committee, owing to the wish of Mr. Cleveland, ex-Secretary Whitney and other prominent leaders of the party that he should retain the position during the present campaign. A gentleman who has just returned from a visit to Mr. Cleveland says that the middle into which Mr. Harrison has thrown his party by turning down all of those who opposed his nomination has made a deep impression upon Mr. Cleveland and that he will show an opposite spirit when the democratic committee meets to organize for the campaign by insisting that no such discrimination be made.

The free coinage of silver has been killed again, and this time friends and foes agree that it is really and truly dead, for this session anyway. The fight in the House over the bill was entirely outside of party lines, as may be judged from the fact that ex-Speaker Reed was the acknowledged leader of the 154 members whose votes defeated the resolution reported from the committee on Rules for the consideration of the free coinage bill. Opinion differs as to what, if any, effect this disposition of the bill will have on the campaign. Representative Breckenridge, of Kentucky, says the defeat of the bill will result in the election of Mr. Cleveland and the retention of a number of eastern congressional districts that would have been lost if the House had passed the bill. "I recognize," continued Mr. Breckenridge "that there is danger of losing a few seats in the House on account of the failure of the bill but those that are lost will not be to republicans but to third-party men who agree with the democrats on the tariff and in opposition to the force bill. It will also cause a number of members who have usually been elected without effort to fight for their seats."

Every one who has had any experience with the present mixed-up pension laws will endorse the resolution reported from the House committee on Invalid Pension, this week, providing for the appointment of a selected committee of five, three to be taken from that committee and two from the committee on Pension, and authorizing it to sit during the coming recess, for the purpose of modifying, simplifying, and arranging the pension laws now in force.

Republican filibustering prevented the joint resolution providing for the election of U. S. Senators by the people being adopted by the House this week. They objected to it because it lacked the force bill feature of placing the election of Senators under Federal supervision.

Representative Bailey, of Texas who believes it to be the duty of Congressmen to earn the pay they receive by being in their seats when a session is being held, and whose consistent and persistent objections to the passage of any bill in the absence of a quorum, has brought him notoriety and perhaps a few enemies, believes in practicing what he preached, and when he went to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House to draw some money he requested that official to deduct one day's pay from the amount, as he was absent one day. Mr. Bailey contends that the deduction is in strict accordance with law, but the Sergeant-at-Arms will consult with the accounting officers of the Treasury before making it.

It is said that the Knights of Labor are preparing to make a determined opposition in the House to the proposed World's Fair appropriation. That organization alleges unfair treatment of its members by those in charge of the work upon the grounds of the exposition at Chicago.

Contrary to expectation, the anti-option bill failed to reach a vote in the Senate this week, although by a vote of 33 to 15 it was given the right of way, but it was crowded out by an appropriation bill just as its supporters were trying to bring it to a vote. If it comes up again it will pass, as it will require a majority vote to get it up for consideration.

The Senate has adopted the amendment to the Sundry Civil appropriation bill providing for the appropriation for the World's Fair of 10,000,000 souvenir silver half-dollars, to be coined from special designs, with amendments prohibiting the opening of the fair on Sundays and the sale of intoxicating liquors on the grounds.

Unless something entirely unexpected shall prevent it, Congress will adjourn within the next fifteen fifteen days. It is just possible that there may be a serious hitch over the numerous amendments which the Senate has added to the Sundry Civil bill when that measure gets back to the House. Some delay may also be occasioned by the adoption of legislation rendered necessary by the report of the House committee now engaged in investigating the connection of the Pinkertons with the Pennsylvania labor trouble, if that report can be made before adjournment.
